5. Adult freshwater pearl mussels

A large, gnarled tree with thick, dark branches leans over a river. The tree's trunk is thick and textured, and its branches spread out across the upper half of the frame. The river below is shallow and flows over rocks, with some white water visible. In the background, a road with a metal guardrail is visible, partially obscured by the tree's branches. The overall scene is lush and green, suggesting a forest or park setting.
